TONOPAH PEOPLE ARE GENEROUS

GOODLY SUM BEING RAISED TO HELP SISTERS WHO WERE BURNED OUT

The subscription started by The Bonanza for the relief of the three sisters who lost their home by fire, is meeting with great success. Yesterday the electricians notified this office that they would install all electrical wiring free of charge, and twelve carpenters have signified their willingness to work Sunday gratuitously, when they should nearly complete the building.

E. C. Peart has responded with a large amount of dry goods and furnishings, and the Lothrop-Davis company and Richard Hardware company will furnish all the hardware and other utensils at cost.

It is expected that the house will be finished within a week's time.

BIG CHANCE FOR THE FOOL KILLER

CAUSES MAD RUSH OF FIRE DEPARTMENT LAST NIGHT

The discharge of a revolver by some idiot who was missed by the fool killer on his last rounds, caused the whistles of several mines last night to sound the fire alarm. When the fire department reached the vicinity of the sub-station the fire was discovered to be a bon-fire, built by several boys residing in that district. If the identity of the fool is discovered there will be something doing.

JACK SALSBERY ARRIVES IN TOWN

HAS GREAT FAITH IN RAWHIDE WHERE HE IS HEAVILY INTERESTED

After an absence of three months, Colonel Jack Salsbery, mining man, lumber king and general good fellow, dropped into Tonopah last night. Jack has been to many camps and invariably has been successful. With him were Count Frank Bonneau and O. B. Kemp. The party had a long drive here, having left Rawhide Monday for a visit to the Reese River district. A day was spent at Gwecah, the new camp now in the limelight, where they took samples of several properties.

"Tonopah looks good to me," said Mr. Salsbery, while scanning the stock list, and observing that Tonopah Mining was quoted at $7.60 bid, "and I certainly am glad to get back."

Speaking of the conditions at Rawhide, where he is largely interested, Mr. Salsbery continued:

"The investors are now rapidly getting their money back, for nearly every day a new lease is being added amongst the shippers. We have six teams that are busy hauling in lumber, and on the outgoing trip are loaded with ore. Among the leases now shipping are the Kearns No. 1, Kearns No. 2, Murray, Tanner and Reynolds, and the Big Four. The Truett is running their ore through the Gates mill."

"On the Poor Boy property we have nineteen working leases and nearly all of them are sacking the high-grade. The conditions are greatly exaggerated concerning the number of deaths reported there, for I honestly believe that there has not been over twenty deaths in the camp since its discovery, and you must take into consideration that there are over 8000 people in there."

"Real estate has been kited out of sight, but is gradually coming back to near where it should be."

"Many investors are being attracted to the camp, and you know that is a class of people that are needed in a new place. Rawhide certainly has all the earmarks of becoming one of the greatest producers in the state."

Mr. Bonneau and Mr. Kemp leave this morning for Goldfield, where they will remain until Saturday and then will return to Rawhide.

BABY WANTED ASSORTED SIZES

WAG WORKS APRIL FOOL STUNT ON GENIAL WALTER DRYSDALE

Yesterday being All Fool's day the wags of the town had the time of their lives, and many and laughable were the jokes perpetrated on unsuspecting citizens. But the meanest of all the jokes was the one played upon Walter Drysdale of the Bank saloon.

A call in a feminine voice over the phone to the Tonopah Drug company made a request from the pleasant and accommodating clerk that rather startled him.

"Is this the Tonopah Drug company?"

"Yes, madam."

"Will you kindly send up to the Bank saloon to Walter Drysdale, a half-dozen various-sized nipples, also a milk bottle? You know the baby's needs different sizes according to the humor it is in. Oh, excuse me, the baby is crying again. Hurry that order, please, and send the bill to Walter. Good-bye."

And then what happened? Walter received the package and paid the 90 cents charges before opening it.

Then he opened it.

Then he blushed.

And the crowd noticing the blush got busy, and what they said to Walter made him blush some more, for if there is anything that he can do to perfection it is blushing, and he has any 19-year-old school girl beat in that line.

"I didn't know that you were married," said Vall Pittman, who just happened to be there.

"I'm not," replied Walter, blushing some more.

"Well, what are you doing with that choice collection of nipples then if you are not married?" asked Sam Haas.

"Honestly fellows they don't belong to me. There is a mistake somewhere," returned Walter, who by this time was almost distracted.

Then the crowd commenced to tender their congratulations and wanted to know when it happened, and if it was a boy or girl. But that was too much, and Walter fled.

And late last night, the following was accidentally heard as a Bonanza reporter wended his way homeward and passed a couple who were eagerly talking:

"Oh, Walter, how could you deceive me. You said that you were not married, and here I have found all of these nipples and that milk bottle in your coat pocket. And I was just commencing to love you, too, boo-boo. Walter, you have broken my heart. After all the sweet things that you have said to me and then find out that you are a perfect brute. Oh, Walter, how could you do it?"

Walter's reply could not be heard as they had passed out of hearing, but by the murmur of his voice it could easily be seen that he was trying to explain that it was not his fault.

Poor Walter.

"NO JOKE" SAYS CHIEF MCKENZIE

The person or persons who perpetrated the so-called April Fool joke, by building a bonfire and calling out the fire department, had better conceal their identity from Fire Chief McKenzie and Chief of Police Malley, neither of whom can see any humor in the circumstance. The following communication from Chief McKenzie clearly presents his views on the matter:

"I fail to see any joke in the calling out of the fire department on a false alarm. There is always an element of danger in a run of the department, especially in the night. A man may be thrown from the wagon, a horse may be permanently injured or killed, or the engine itself overturned. In view of these circumstances, the calling out of the department as a joke, exceeds the point of humor, and I trust this explanation will prevent a recurrence of the affair."

J. G. MCKENZIE, Chief of the Fire Department.

JUDGE O'BRIEN ADMINISTERS THE PENALTY ORDERED BY JURY

Fred Skinner the convicted murderer of Mona Bell was yesterday sentenced in the district court to life imprisonment in the state penitentiary at Carson. When Judge O'Brien pronounced sentence, Skinner responded with that sarcastic smile that he continually wore throughout the trial. A motion was made for a new trial, but this was denied.

Skinner will be taken to the pen at Carson this morning by Chief of Police Malley.

GOLDFIELD HAS BIG RECEPTION

FRENCH AUTO PARTY ENTER-TAINED AT BANQUET IN HOTEL CASEY

(Special to The Bonanza)

GOLDFIELD, Nev., April 1.—The French car De Blon-Bonnot in the New York to Paris race, left this city at 8:30 this morning and expects to reach Ballarat by nightfall. The auto will traverse the same route taken by the American car. It expects to meet the Italian car in San Francisco and in all likelihood will take the same steamer for the north, with it and the second French car, which was shipped to the coast by freight.

The Goldfield Tribune has the following to say about the entertainment of the visitors in that city:

Commencing at 8 o'clock, a reception was held at the Hotel Casey, at which many of the prominent people of the city were present. This was followed by a banquet attended by perhaps 100 representative citizens and ladies. Merry jest and music alternated until a late hour, and then several addresses were delivered. The dining hall was tastefully decorated for the event, and Mrs. Casey McDannell was especially gracious as hostess.

The departure of the car from Tonopah was duly announced by three long blasts from the fire whistle, blown upon orders of Mr. Charles F. Kapp, who has been untiring in his efforts to accord a hearty welcome to each racing auto. Credit is also due to Mr. St. Pierre and other members of the reception committee for their painstaking efforts to make the visit of the Frenchmen an event long to be remembered. Had the car arrived earlier in the day a trip through the mines would have been essayed, but this was impossible, inasmuch as the auto did not pull into the city until after dark.

While in Tonopah late Monday night a reception was tendered the crew of the French racer, at the Montana cafe, by representative citizens of Tonopah, headed by Grant Crumley, Newton Crumley, W. W. Booth and Samuel Haas. In fact, these gentlemen are wholly responsible for the warmth of greeting extended all the racers in this international contest who have thus far come by way of the thriving city north of Goldfield.
